George McCracken

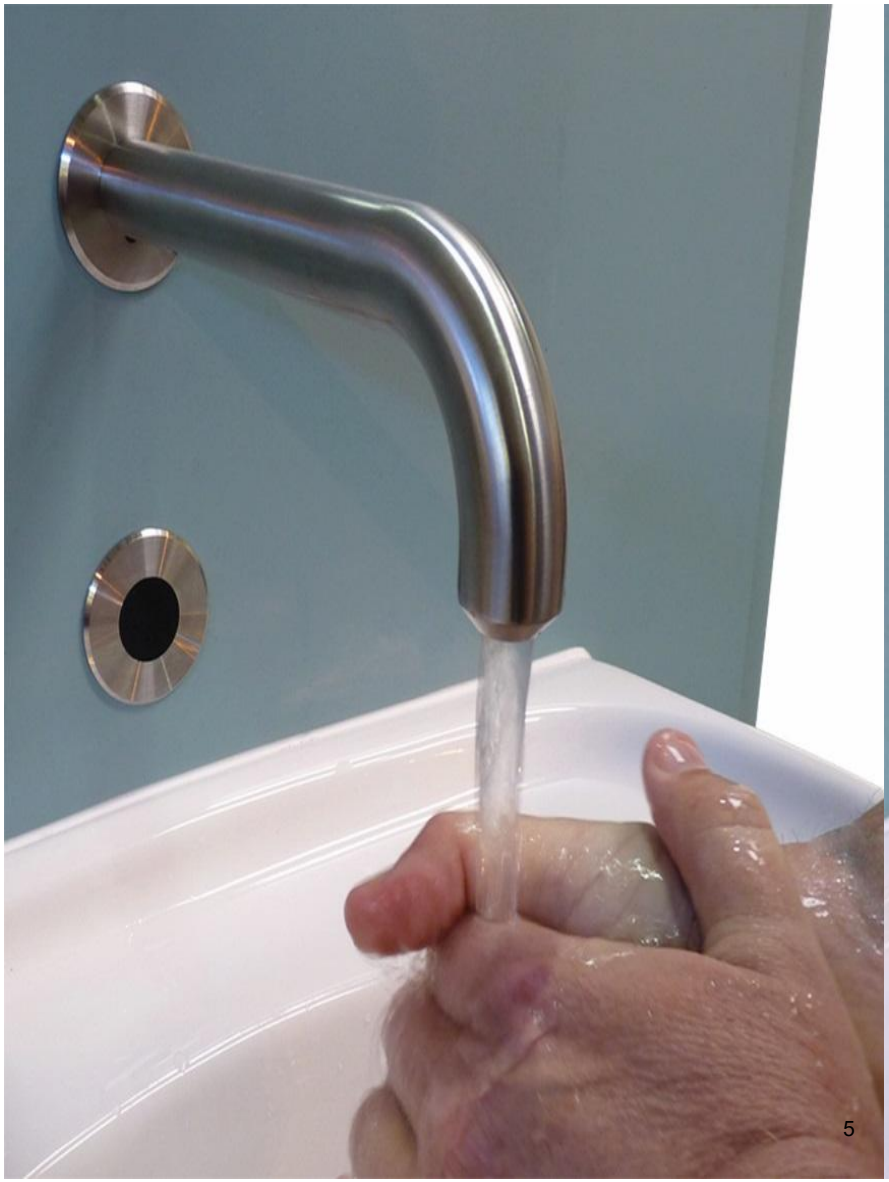
Belfast Health & Social Care Trust

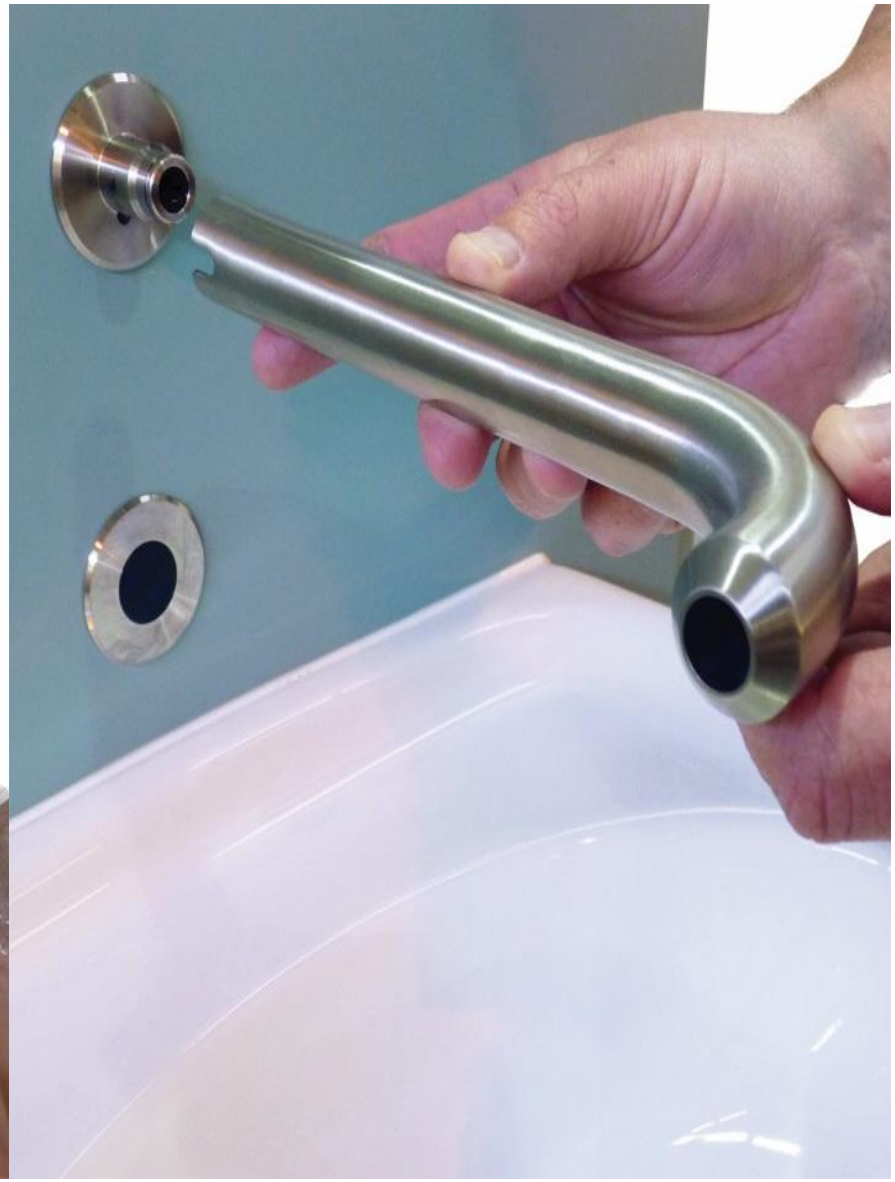
JANUARY 2012:

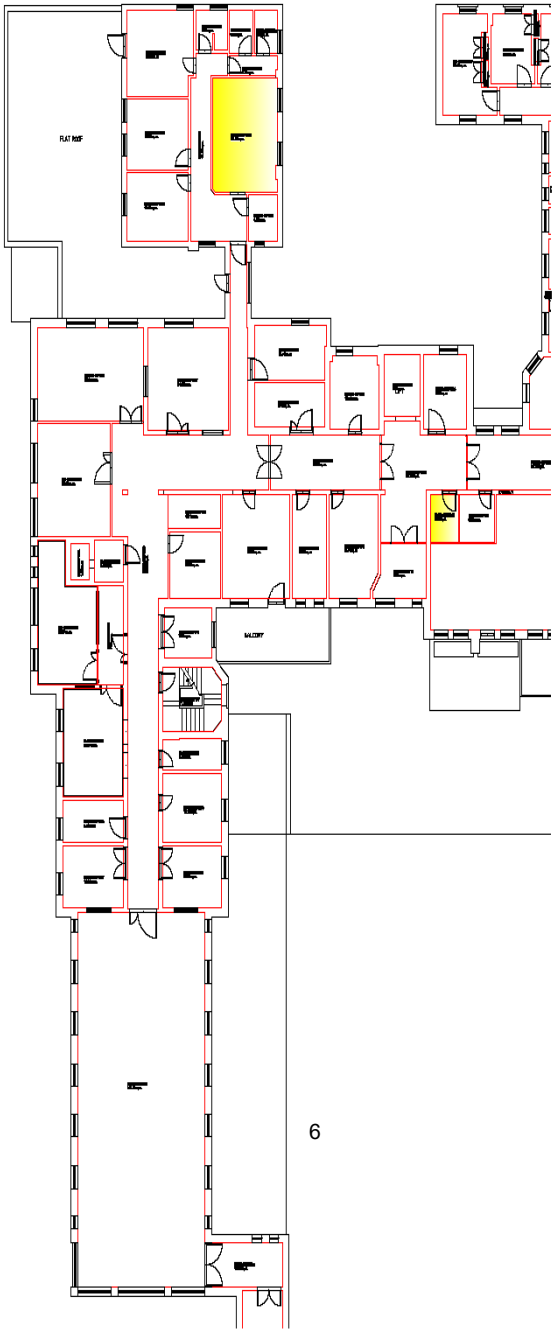
"Hospital shuts baby unit after infection kills three newborns - Northern Ireland health minister asks parents to remain calm"

In January 2012 the Neonatal Unit in Belfast had an outbreak of Pseudomonas Aeruginosa. The same strain caused a number of deaths and was isolated in 5 out of 6 sensor taps in the main intensive care room.

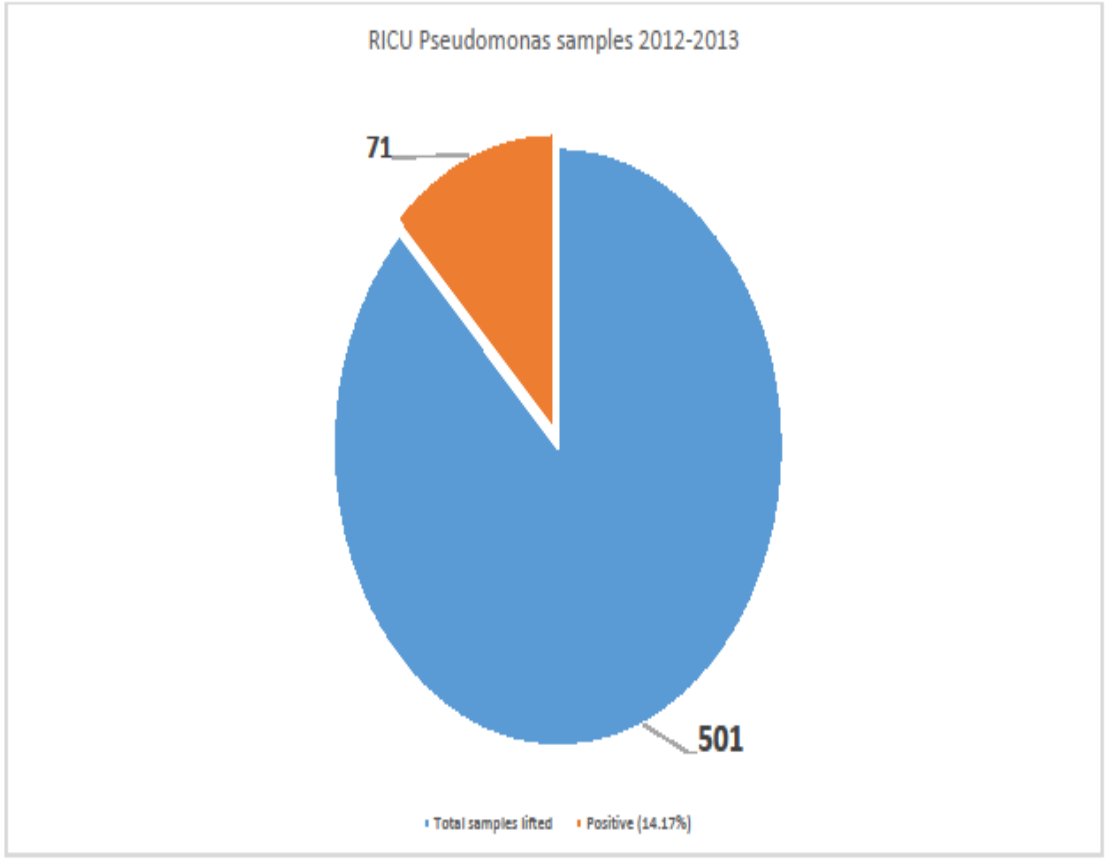
Royal Jubilee
NICU



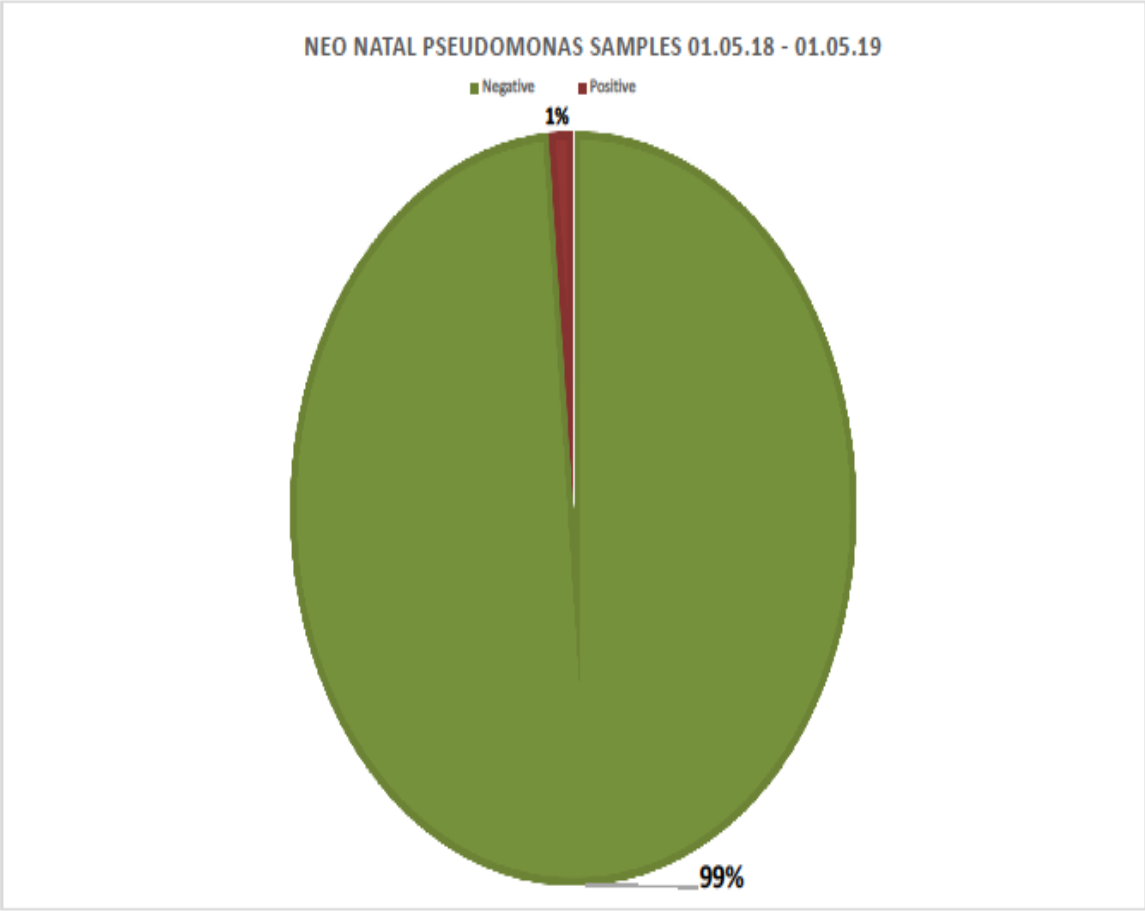




FLAT ROOF
BALCONY



RICU Pseudomonas samples 2012-2013
71
501
Total samples lifted
Positive (14.17%)



NEO NATAL PSEUDOMONAS SAMPLES 01.05.18 - 01.05.19
Negative
Positive
1%
99%

THANK YOU