Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you for raising your concerns regarding the decision to discontinue and restart the procurement.

The procurement was discontinued prior to any award and applies equally to all bidders. Whilst feedback was issued to all participating suppliers during standstill, this related solely to the discontinued process and has no ongoing effect.

The new procurement will be conducted as a separate exercise, with updated documentation and the same opportunity for all bidders to participate on an equal and transparent basis.

We hope this clarifies the position and we welcome your participation in the forthcoming competition.

Thanks again

Hi [REDACTED]

Thanks for getting back to me.

I suppose my biggest concern is we are now at a disadvantage given the company that challenged the award know they were not competitive, price wise and will need to improve.

Also, what, if anything are you able to put in place to stop this from happening again should the said company not be successful.

Kind Regards
